Preface

The main motivation for this series is that details on the Mythic Europe setting are distributed over a large number of books. This makes it hard to answer some questions, such as "Who is in the Magvillus council?", "Who are the Quaesitors from the other Houses?", or "Where are the Terrae-magi located?".

Of course, any troupe can answer any of these questions any way they want. Ars Magica books make a point of detailing some of the more important aspects and leaving the rest for the troupe to fill in. This makes the setting very flexible and easy to adapt to a variety of tastes. Still, I was curious to figure out how all the puzzle pieces might fit together, what a complete picture might look like.

Approach I compiled information from different books from the 3rd, 4th and 5th edition of Ars Magica. Where conflicts arose, the newer edition took precedence. For the Iberian Tribunal, I resorted to the excellent novel Shadow & Flame by Jason Tondro[1] and for the Loch Leglean Tribunal I used information from the Ascendency of the Warp Saga by Andrew Breese.[2]

Even when taking this additional information into account, the depiction of Guernicus magi in the canon books leaves many gaps. Of the 98 Guernicus magi making up the House according to HoH:TL, only 57 are mentioned in the books. In addition, in some Tribunals a low number of Quaesitors is used to emphasize their remoteness or singularity with respect to the Code of Hermes. The Loch Leglean supposedly only has a single Quaesitor.[3] The Rhine Tribunal has a weak presence, it is even mentioned there might be only two Guernicus magi.[4] Even less is known about the 41 non-Guernicus Quaesitors. This means that, in order to complete the picture, I had to make many assumptions and invent covenants and characters. I decided to have a number of Quaesitors proportionate to the size of the Tribunal, so in most Tribunals Quaesitors are very roughly one tenth of the population (fewer in Loch Leglean and the Rhine, and of course many more in the Roman Tribunal). The result is a hopefully reasonable picture, but of course many choices could have been made in another way.

Notes As almost all Guernicus magi are Quaesitors, this fact is not always mentioned. For the eight Guernicus magi who are not Quaesitors, this is made explicit. Almost all non-Guernicus Quaesitors are not canonical, but were selected as Quaesitors by the author based on their description. This is also not usually mentioned for every character.

Acknowledgements This work would not have been possible without the decision to put large portions of the Ars Magica content under an open license. I would like to thank Andrew Breese, Jason Tondro, and Erik Tyrrell for their permission to use their ideas here.

Table 1: Guernicus magi and non-Guernicus Quaesitores per Tribunal. The minimum columns list the magi mentioned in the books.

1. Structure of House Guernicus

1.1. Demography

There are 98 magi in House Guernicus.[5] Ninety are Quaesitors in good standing,[6] and there are 41 non-Guernicus Quaesitors.[7] Of the eight Guernicus magi who are not Quaesitors, two are Priests of Pluto at Aedes Mercurii, three are Hoplites, and three pursue other interests.

House Leadership Key figures in the House are the Prima and the leaders of the various factions within the House. All of them reside in Magvillus.

- Prima Archimaga Bilera
- Archimagus Jart, leading Traditionalist and Presiding Quaesitor of the Roman Tribunal
- Ferilan, leading Transitionalist
- Procella, leader of the Terrae-Magi

The Magvillus Council House Guernicus is ruled by the consensus of the Magvillus Council. There are two tiers to the Magvillus Council, the inner and outer.

The inner tier consists of six Guernicus magi plus the Primus. They reside at Magvillus and govern the internal business of House Guernicus.[9]

1. Bilera of Guernicus (Prima)
2. Jart (Presiding Quaesitor of the Rome Tribunal[10] and leading Traditionalist[11])
3. Procella (leader of the Terrae-Magi)[12]
4. Exquiro
5. Ferilan, leading Transitionalist
6. Denique

[9] HoH:TL p.44

[10] "A member of the inner council is usually the Presiding Quaesitor of the Rome Tribunal; the Primus only presides at the Grand Tribunal."" [HoH:TL p.44]

[11] GotF p.21

[12] "The leader of the Terrae-Magi always finds his way to a seat on the inner council of Magvillus." [HoH:TL p.68]

7. Friuli

There are twenty-four seats in the outer tier: eleven for a non-Guernicus Quaesitor from each of the other Houses and thirteen for the Presiding Quaesitor from each regional Tribunal."[13] Usually the Presiding Quaesitor of the Rome Tribunal is a member of the inner council; in this case, this seat is left empty, as the outer council never convenes without the inner council.

1. Bjornaer Quaesitor: Eule of Fengheld (Rhine Tribunal)
2. Bonisagus Quaesitor: Apollonia of Porta Major[14] (Roman Tribunal)
3. Criamon Quaesitor: Lunaria of Hasan's Dream[15] (Iberia)
4. Ex Miscellanea Quaesitor: Kentigern of the Covenant of the Icy North (Greater Alps)
5. Flambeau Quaesitor: Malfortis of Aedes Mercurii (Provence)
6. Jerbiton Quaesitor: Aurora Borealis of The Hermetic Embassy (Levant)
7. Mercere Quaesitor: Velox of Harco (Roman Tribunal)
8. Merinita Quaesitor: Ruaidrí Mór of Cliffheart (Hibernia)
9. Tremere Quaesitor: Perius of Lycaneon (Transylvania)
10. Tytalus Quaesitor: Tisiphon of Hedyosmos (Theban Tribunal)
11. Verditius Quaesitor: Hydatius of Ingasia (Theban Tribunal)
12. Greater Alps: Athena Alpina of Guernicus (Covenant of the Icy North)
13. Hibernia: Visioturpis of Guernicus (Circulus Ruber)
14. Iberia: Benedictus (Baruch) of Guernicus (Duresca)[16]
15. Levant: Scipio of Guernicus (Wanderer)
16. Loch Leglean: Mairi Sean Ex Miscellanea (Mac Gruagach)
17. Normandy: Proctor of Guernicus (Confluensis)

[13] HoH:TL p.44

[14] The magus, her name, and the covenant were invented by the author.

[15] The maga, her name, and the covenant were invented by the author.

[16] The Presiding Quaesitor was named Baruch in ToH:I – a Jewish name for a character who was not. Jason Tondro resolved this after a discussion with Chris Hall by renaming the character to Benedictus in the Shadow & Flame novel. The name Baruch is used by Benedictus' enemies to accuse him of being Jewish. I decided to support that change.

18. Novgorod: Andrei Soitkchin of Guernicus (Three Lakes)
19. Provence: Beatrice of Guernicus (Castra Solis, presumed Chief Quaesitor)
20. Rhine: Caecilius of Bonisagus (Durenmar)
21. Roman: left empty
22. Stonehenge: Iudicium of Guernicus (Blackthorn)
23. Thebes: there is no Chief Quaesitor [TSE p.25] Maria Laskarina of Guernicus (Polyagios) is the polemarch, who ensures its edicts are carried out.
24. Transylvania: Benilda of Guernicus (Seuthopolis)

Archmages There are six archmages in House Guernicus.

- Prima Bilera of Magvillus
- Jart of Magvillus, leading Traditionalist and Presiding Quaesitor of the Roman Tribunal
- Benedictus of Duresca, Presiding Quaesitor of the Iberian Tribunal
- Proctor of Confluensis, Presiding Quaesitor of the Normandy Tribunal
- Andrei Soitkchin of Three Lakes, Presiding Quaesitor of the Novgorod Tribunal
- Benilda of Seuthopolis, Presiding Quaesitor of the Transylvanian Tribunal

The Terrae Cult The most important seat of the Terrae Cult is the underground covenant of Hedyosmos in the Theban Tribunal. There are sixteen Terrae-magi, eleven of whom come from House Guernicus.

- Procella of Magvillus, the cult leader[17]
- Monferrato of Magvillus[18]
- The eight magi of Hedyosmus (four Guernicus, three Tytalus, and one Bonisagus)
- Valerian of Confluensis, the chief hoplite of the Normandy Tribunal
- Two magi from the Templum part of Aedes Mercurii[19]

[17] "The leader of the cult always finds his way to a seat on the inner council of Magvillus" [HoH:TL p. 68], so I made one of the magi at Magvillus the cult leader.
[18] It seems reasonable that the cult leader is not the only Terrae Magus at Magvillus, and the name was fitting.
[19] I imagine they are priests of Pluto.

- Polemarch Maria Laskarina of Polyaigos[20]
- A lictor of Seuthopolis[21]
- Xiphos of Jerbiton from Coenobium Rhodanien in Provence.

2. Greater Alps Tribunal

Important magi:

- Athena Alpina of the Covenant of the Icy North is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Kentigern Ex Miscellanea, member of the Magvillus Council[22]

Important covenants:

- The Motherhouse of the Covenant of the Icy North houses four Quaesitors and two hoplites.
- The Tabularium houses five Guernicus Quaesitors and five Hoplites, two Flambeau and three Tytalus, among them one archmage.[23]

Guernicus Magi:

- Athena Alpina of the Covenant of the Icy North
- Cato of the Covenant of the Icy North, the second-most senior Quaesitor in the Tribunal[24]
- five Guernicus Quaesitors at the Tabularium chapter of the Covenant of the Icy North
- One of the four disappeared magi of Tarragon Vale was an unnamed Guernicus who was not a Quaesitor.[25]

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Kentigern Ex Miscellanea, member of the Magvillus Council
- Adrasteia of Tytalus
- a Jerbiton of a chapter of the Covenant of the Icy North[26]

[20]Her mastery of Rego and Terram qualifies her for the cult.
[21]I put one non-Quaesitor Guernicus there as a lictor, and Terrae-magi make competent combat mages.
[22]Kentigern seems like a good candidate from his description and Adrasteia of Tytalus does not have a good standing in Magvillus (SoI p. 64).
[23]This chapter and its members were added by the author as there is no reason this Tribunal should have a below-average number of Quaesitors. Adding a covenant geared towards enforcement with a few capable Hoplites seemed a good option.
[24]SoI p. 46
[25]SoI does not name the Houses of the disappeared magi, the assignment was done by the author.
[26]Placed there by the author, as Jerbiton is the largest House in the Tribunal.

3. Hibernian Tribunal

Important magi:

- Visioturpis of Circulus Ruber is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Ruaidrí Mór of Merinita, member of the Magvillus Council

Important covenants:

- Circulus Ruber hosts the presiding Quaesitor, three more Quaesitors and a Hoplite (a Tytalus archmage).[27]

Guernicus Magi:

- Visioturpis of Circulus Ruber is the Presiding Quaesitor
- three Guernicus Quaesitors at Circulus Ruber
- Lugardis of Elk's Run

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Ruaidrí Mór of Merinita (Cliffheart), member of the Magvillus Council[28]
- A wandering maga Ex Miscellanea[29]

4. Iberian Tribunal

Important magi:

- Archimagus Benedictus[30] of Duresca is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Lunaria of Hasan's Dream[31], member of the Magvillus Council

Important covenants:

- Duresca houses the Presiding Quaesitor and eight other Quaesitors.

[27] Only the Presiding Quaesitor is canonical. As only one other Quaesitor is mentioned, it seemed a good choice to fill three of the remaining seats at Circulus Ruber with Quaesitors and add a Hoplite.

[28] Cliffheart magi are active in Tribunal politics and honor their Oaths and the Peripheral Code [TCI p. 83]. With his focus on Rego, Ruaidrí Mór looks like the best candidate. Other Merinita magi are not as well suited: Conán Derg of Merinita (Circulus Ruber) has retreated from Hermetic politics [TCI p. 82]. Faisgia of Merinita (Cliffheart) is suspected of ambushing the former Praeco [TCI p. 83]. Vigil seems to self-centered to house Quaesitors.

[29] I wanted a maga Ex Miscellanea, but the magi of the The Paruchia of Nerius and of Qui Sonant Pro Quieto are not suited as Quaesitors. Lugh-éccnaid Ex Miscellanea of Longmist holds views that seem incompatible with being a Quaesitor. [TtA p. 103]

[30] See footnote 16 on page 5.

[31] The maga, her name, and the covenant were invented by the author.

Guernicus Magi:

- Benedictus
- Legera
- Diurnus
- Tacitus
- Veritas
- Antona
- Tresmillia
- Maria
- Adelbert[32]
- an unnamed Guernicus at Salamanca, who is not a Quaesitor

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- a Flambeau Quaesitor at Montem Castellum
- Lunaria of Criamon at Hasan's Dream

5. Levant Tribunal

Important magi:

- Scipio of Guernicus (Wanderer) is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Archimaga Aurora Borealis of Jerbiton at the Hermetic Embassy, member of the Magvillus Council

Important covenants:

- The Hermetic Embassy has only Quaesitores as members.[33]

Guernicus Magi:

- Scipio of Guernicus (Wanderer) is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Felix of Domus Pacis

[32]by Erik Tyrrell, `http://forum.atlas-games.com/t/adelbert-a-magi-of-hermes-look-at-intellego-and-astro 8146/`

[33]This is not canonical, but due to a decision by the author.

- another wandering Guernicus Quaesitor

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Archimaga Aurora Borealis of Jerbiton at the Hermetic Embassy, member of the Magvillus Council
- Spiral of Criamon at The Hermetic Embassy[34]

6. Loch Leglean Tribunal

As half the magi of Loch Leglean are magi Ex Miscellanea, the Presiding Quaesitor is from this House as well. Only one of her advisers are from House Guernicus, which only has a weak position in this Tribunal (only half the Quaesitors are from House Guernicus). The other one is from House Merinita, the second largest House in the Tribunal. Together, they represent the three dominant covenants of the Tribunal.[35]

Important magi:

- Mairi Sean Ex Miscellanea of Mac Gruagach is the Presiding Quaesitor.
- Alexander the Lame of Merinita at Crun Clach is one of the two advisers.
- Whitburh Frithowebba of Guernicus at Horsingas is the senior Guernicus Quaesitor.

Important covenants:

- No House covenants; House Guernicus only has a weak presence in this Tribunal.

Guernicus Magi:

- Whitburh Frithowebba of Guernicus at Horsingas is the senior Guernicus Quaesitor.
- Two more Guernicus Quaesitors
- A Guernicus Hoplite

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Mairi Sean Ex Miscellanea of Mac Gruagach is the Presiding Quaesitor.
- Alexander the Lame of Merinita at Crun Clach is one of the two advisers.
- A Bjornaer Quaesitor from Loch Lomond

[34]His focus on Intellego Vim makes him a good candidate.

[35]I re-interpret the line "Whitburh Frothowebba is the only Quaesitor in the tribunal." from LotN p. 64 to mean that House Guernicus only has a weak presence in this Tribunal and that respecting local traditions is very important. The Presiding Quaesitor has two advisers [HoH:TL p. 64] so there must be at least three Quaesitors in a Tribunal. I assume that House Guernicus makes sure there are at least six Quaesitors in each Tribunal, both to avoid the impression that they are forcing the trio on the Tribunal and to make sure there are replacements in case one of the three Quaesitors is indisposed.

7. Normandy Tribunal

Important magi:

- Archimagus Proctor of Guernicus at Confluensis is the Presiding Quaesitor

Important covenants:

- Confluensis has three Guernicus Quaesitors amon its members

Guernicus Magi:

- Archimagus Proctor of Confluensis (93)
- Aristarcus of Confluensis (52)
- Cavillor of Confluensis (43)
- Valerian of Confluensis (78), a Terrae-magus and the Chief Hoplite of the Tribunal
- A visiting Guernicus Quaesitor at Conventio Florum
- A Guernicus Quaesitor at an unnamed Vassal of Confluensis
- Two wandering Guernicus Quaesitors

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- A Tytalus Quaesitor at Exspectatio
- A Flambeau Quaesitor at Montverte
- Quintinus of Verditius at Oleron

8. Novgorod Tribunal

Important magi:

- Archimagus Andrei Soitkchin of Guernicus at Three Lakes is the Presiding Quaesitor

Important covenants:

- Three Lakes

Guernicus Magi:

- Archimagus Andrei Soitkchin of Guernicus at Three Lakes
- Pavel Chedyav of Guernicus at Three Lakes
- Two additional Guernicus Quaesitors at a new covenant

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Boris Davidovich of Bjornaer at Three Lakes
- an Ex Miscellanea Beast Master at a Bjornaer covenant

9. Provençal Tribunal

Important magi:

- Beatrice of Guernicus (Castra Solis, presumed Chief Quaesitor)
- Malfortis of Flambeau at Aedes Mercurii, member of the Magvillus Council

Important covenants:

- The Templum at Aedes Mercurii is one of the centers of the Terrae cult, next to Magvillus and Hedyosmos.

Guernicus Magi:

- Beatrice of Guernicus at Castra Solis (presumed Chief Quaesitor)
- Another Guernicus Quaesitor at Castra Solis, who finished his gauntlet only a few years ago
- Two Terrae-magi at Aedes Mercurii, who are Priests of Pluto but not Quaesitors.
- A visiting Guernicus Quaesitor at the Coenobium Rhodanien
- Four additional wandering Guernicus Quaesitors

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Beatriz of Criamon[36]
- A Criamon consul of the Coenobium Rhodanien[37]
- Malfortis of Flambeau at Aedes Mercurii, member of the Magvillus Council
- A second Flambeau Quaesitor at Castra Solis
- Gaius Gallus of Tremere at Tolerantia[38]

10. Rhine Tribunal

There is only a weak presence of Quaesitores in the Rhine Tribunal.[39] With only seven Quaesitors in one of the largest Tribunals, the Rhine has the lowest representation of all Tribunals. Many Quaesitors seem to be reluctant or ineffective, and the Tribunal relies on other mechanisms to keep the peace.

Important magi:

[36]Dies Irae p.15
[37]The Criamon magi of Tolosa Paratge are too embroiled in their conflict
[38]The name of the character and the covenant were invented by the author.
[39]GotF p.21

- Archimagus Caecilius of Bonisagus at Durenmar is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Magister Eule of Bjornaer at Fengheld, member of the Magvillus Council

Important covenants:

- Durenmar always has at least one Guernicus magus in its ranks.

Guernicus Magi:

- Winfrida of Durenmar (27)
- Peregrinator Tabanus, currently at Triamore (38)
- Magnus von Schwarzwald (48)[40]
- Delia (36)[41]

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Archimagus Caecilius of Bonisagus at Durenmar is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Magister Eule of Bjornaer at Fengheld, member of the Magvillus Council
- Unnamed Merinita at Irencillia[42]

11. Roman Tribunal

With 21 Quaesitors, the Roman Tribunal has an exceptionally strong presence. However, seven of these are members of the Magvillus inner council and more concerned with administration than with actual Quaesitorial duties. Seven of the remaining 14 are Quaesitors from other Houses.

Important magi:

- Archimaga Bilera of Guernicus at Magvillus is the Prima of House Guernicus
- Archimagus Jart of Guernicus at Magvillusis the Presiding Quaesitor and the leading Traditionalist
- Procella of Guernicus at Magvillus, leader of the Terrae-Magi
- Exquiro of Guernicus at Magvillus
- Ferilan of Guernicus at Magvillus, leading Transitionalist
- Denique of Guernicus at Magvillus

[40]ToP p. 71
[41]ToP p. 74
[42]It felt sensible to have someone from the Domus Magna of House Merinita be a Quaesitor.

- Friuli of Guernicus at Magvillus
- Apollonia of Bonisagus at Porta Major[43], member of the Magvillus Council
- Velox of Mercere at Harco, member of the Magvillus Council

Important covenants:

- Magvillus is the Domus Magna and seat of the inner council.

Guernicus Magi:

- Archimaga Bilera at Magvillus is the Prima of House Guernicus
- Archimagus Jart at Magvillusis the Presiding Quaesitor and the leading Traditionalist
- Procella at Magvillus, leader of the Terrae-Magi[44]
- Exquiro at Magvillus
- Ferilan at Magvillus, leading Transitionalist
- Denique at Magvillus
- Friuli at Magvillus
- Adria at Magvillus, an associate member
- Largen at Magvillus, an associate member
- Monferrato at Magvillus, an associate member and a Terrae-magus[45]
- four Guernicus Quaesitors
- Another Guernicus, who is too concerned with his own research to be a Quaesitor.

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Steris of Verditius at Verdi[46]
- Davan of Tremere at Potestas
- Apollonia of Bonisagus at Porta Major[47], member of the Magvillus Council

[43]The magus, her name, and the covenant were invented by the author.

[44]"The leader of the cult always finds his way to a seat on the inner council of Magvillus" [HoH:TL p. 68], so I made one of the magi at Magvillus the cult leader.

[45]It seems reasonable that the cult leader is not the only Terrae-magus at Magvillus, and the name was fitting.

[46]

[47]The magus, her name, and the covenant were invented by the author.

- Velox of Mercere at Harco, member of the Magvillus Council
- Gerbert of Jerbiton at Literatus
- a Bonisagus Quaesitor
- a Tytalus Quaesitor

12. Stonehenge Tribunal

The Stonehenge Tribunal has eight Quaesitors, an average number relative to its small size. One peculiarity is that at Tribunals, Quaesitors vote indirectly via Redcaps.[48]

Important magi:

- Iudicium of Guernicus at Blackthorn is the Presiding Quaesitor

Important covenants:

- No covenants play an important role for House Guernicus

Guernicus Magi:

- Iudicium of Blackthorn is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Trutina of Burnham
- Fredegisa of Schola Pythagoranis
- Three wandering Guernicus Quaesitors

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- A wandering maga Ex Miscellanea of the Donatores Requietis Aeternae[49]
- A wandering Tytalus

[48] The quaesitores do not, officially, vote. However, it is customary for each quaesitor, including the presiding quaesitor, to instruct one of the unGifted Redcaps to vote a certain way on each issue. Technically, these "magi" vote with their own sigils, but everyone knows what is really going on. [HtM p. 117]

[49] The magi at Burnham are too removed from Hermetic society. None of the magi at Cad Gadu or Ungulus seem to have an appropriate personality to become Quaesitor.

13. Theban Tribunal

The Theban Tribunal has a unique organization. Quaesitors have fewer responsibilities: The magistrates conduct investigations and review and expand the Peripheral Code. Quaesitors are consulted as experts on Hermetic Law. There is no Presiding Quaesitor in the Theban Tribunal.[50] The role of the Tribunal's Presiding Quaesitor in the outer council is filled by the Polemarch,[51] whose role is otherwise similar to that of a Chief Hoplite in other Tribunals.

Important magi:

- There is no Chief Quaesitor.[52] Maria Laskarina of Guernicus (Polyagios) is the Polemarch, who ensures its edicts are carried out. She fills the position of the Tribunal's Presiding Quaesitor in the outer council.
- Aiakia of Guernicus (Hedyosmos) is the current Archon (equivalent to Praeco in other Tribunals).
- Ausculator of Guernicus at Hedyosmos is the leader of the Terrae cult in the Theban Tribunal.
- Tytalus Quaesitor: Tisiphon of Hedyosmos, member of the Magvillus Council
- Verditius Quaesitor: Hydatius of Ingasia, member of the Magvillus Council

Important covenants:

- Hedyosmos is a center of the Terrae cult

Magi:

- Ausculator of Hedyosmos (162), leader of the Terrae cult in the Theban Tribunal
- Aiakia of Hedyosmos (61), the current Archon
- Two other Guernicus Terrae-magi at Hedyosmos
- Maria Laskarina of Polyaigos, the Polemarch (Kretan Phyle)
- Another Guernicus Quaesitor at Polyaigos
- A wandering Guernicus Quaesitor

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

[50] TSE p. 25

[51] This matter is not discussed anywhere, so this is an assumption on part of the author. The Archon would have been a good candidate for the role of Presiding Quaesitor, but he is already the equivalent of a Praeco, and uniting both roles in one person would be unusual.

[52] TSE p.25

- Tisiphon of Tytalus at Hedyosmos (Ionian Phyle)
- Hydatius of Verditius at Ingasia (Aegean Phyle)
- A Jerbiton at Moero's Garden (Propontian Phyle)
- A Flambeau wanderer

14. Transylvanian Tribunal

The Transylvanian Tribunal is a model Tribunal. It has a rather high number of Quaesitors, who are respected and supported by Lictors.

Important magi:

- Archimaga Benilda of Guernicus at Seuthopolis is the Presiding Quaesitor
- Perius of Tremere at Lycaneon, member of the Magvillus Council

Important oppida:

- Seuthopolis is the Quaesitor covenant with eight Quaesitors (four senior and four junior) and six Lictors, among them the Marshal (chief Lictor). Benilda is supported by a junior Quaesitor and each of the other three senior Quaesitors forms a team with a junior Quaesitor and two Lictors.

11 Guernicus Magi:

- Archimaga Benilda of Seuthopolis (78), the Presiding Quaesitor
- Caledonia of Seuthopolis (65), responsible for punishments or forceful investigations
- Scipio of Seuthopolis (44), responsible for mediation
- Vigilia of Seuthopolis (76), responsible for crimes within oppida
- Four junior Guernicus Quaesitors at Seuthopolis
- A Guernicus Terrae-magus at Seuthopolis who is a Lictor (Hoplite)
- A Guernicus Quaesitor at the Venice chapter house of Histria
- A Guernicus Quaesitor at Scholomance

Non-Guernicus Quaesitors:

- Perius of Tremere at Lycaneon (over 150 years old), pater of Anaxagoras of Triamore (dead)[53]
- Publius of Tremere at Lycaneon

[53]Triamore p. 54

15. Unknown Tribunal

Magi:

- Moratamis of Guernicus at Semita Errabunda (44)
- Galerius of Guernicus (54)[54]
- Eutropia of Guernicus (32)[55]
- Asmorn of Guernicus (47)[56]
